INTRODUCTION

The conference will consider precisely where and how costs are incurred and explore the ways in which they can be reduced to make international commercial arbitration more cost-effective and efficient. The results of CI Arb's Costs of International Arbitration Survey will be presented, aiming to uncover ways in which costs might be less and the process streamlined. An array of distinguished speakers will discuss the impact of costs in different jurisdictions and sectors.

Who should attend?

- Practitioners in international arbitration
- Corporate counsel
- Chief Executives and Senior Managers
- Legal, Commercial and Finance Directors
- Lawyers acting for international trading corporations
- Financial and Investment Advisers
- Arbitral Institutions
- Policy Makers and Advisers
- Advisers to Governments and NGOs
- Contract Drafters

Why should you attend?

- Gain valuable data and expert commentary on how to control costs in international arbitration
- A lively, interactive conference with high level networking opportunities
- Hear from leading international in-house counsel, lawyers, arbitrators and experts
- Attendance will earn Continuing Professional Development (CPD) points

Survey

CI Arb has launched a major survey into the overall costs of international arbitration, and how these are incurred. 'Costs of Arbitration' is gathering data to inform parties, legal representatives and arbitrators.

Doug Jones AM FCI Arb, CI Arb President, and a member of the conference organising committee, said: "We invite all legal representatives, in-house counsel and arbitral tribunal members to contribute to this major survey which will make an invaluable contribution to the debate on costs, helping to generate proposals to restore speed and cost-effectiveness to the process."

All survey participants will receive a report of the findings and a discounted fee for the conference. The deadline for submitting completed surveys is 24 June 2011.

To complete the survey please visit:
