Gaëtan Verhoosel

Gaëtan has appeared both as advocate and as arbitrator in a large number of both commercial and investment treaty arbitrations.

Gaëtan presently serves as a Vice-Chair of the IBA Arbitration Committee and is a visiting lecturer at King's College School of Law and the University of Barcelona Faculty of Law. He was appointed to the ICSID Panel of Arbitrators by the Kingdom of Belgium.

Prior to co-founding Three Crowns, Gaëtan was a partner and the global co-chair of the international arbitration practice at a leading international law firm. Prior to entering private practice, he served as a Legal Advisor at the World Trade Organization in Geneva, where he advised dispute settlement panels adjudicating disputes between sovereigns across a range of industry sectors.

Admitted to practice as a Solicitor, Avocat and Abogado, Gaëtan handles arbitrations in English, French and Spanish. He received his LL.M. and J.S.D. degrees from Columbia University School of Law and his civil law degree (Lic. Jur.) from the University of Leuven Faculty of Laws. He also holds a postgraduate degree in international relations from the Johns Hopkins University Paul Nitze School of Advanced International Studies.

Gaëtan has been ranked as a leading international arbitration practitioner in all major publications, including Chambers UK, Chambers Global (Europe, Global and Latin America), PLC Which Lawyer (England), Legal 500 (UK), Legal 500 (Latin America), Who's Who Legal, and GAR's 45 under 45.
